NATHAN HALE CEMETERY
COVENTRY CONN

Copied in part by Mr DeWitt Kingsbury of South Coventry finished and typed by Mrs Wm K Pike of Danielson Conn

A FOREWORD

Mr. DeWitt Kingsbury began the copying of the NATHAN HALE CEMETERY, recording the inscriptions in full, noting the height, thickness, shape and kind of stone and the decorations of each as well as the state of preservation at that date. Later I copied the rest of the yard and my husband made a sketch of the cemetery, labeling the several sections as seen on the enclosed map. In typing the work I have noted the section where said graves may be found with less difficulty.

A few stones are not legible and there are many unmarked graves in Section I. Where ledges of rock are apparent, the spaces probably have no burials.

It is recorded that the first memorial to Nathan Hale was in 1794 by his father Dea. Richard Hale and may be found in Section I with the Hale family burials.

The Nathan Hale granite monument was erected in 1846 by the people of Coventry and others and by a State grant of $1200. It was designed by Henry Austin of New Haven.

Before the Hurricane of Sept. 1938 the very tall trees in this cemetery were taken down, thereby saving many stones that probably would have been ruined.

The oldest burial in this cemetery is of Peter Buell 1716
The oldest person buried here is Jeremiah Austin 101 yrs
